A photograph of two Japanese Waxwings (Icarus) in a natural setting. The birds have grey bodies, black heads, and bright yellow beaks. One bird is in the foreground, facing left, while the other is slightly behind and to the left. They are standing on a ground covered with green grass and brown, fallen leaves. A large, textured rock is visible on the right side of the frame. The background is a soft, out-of-focus greyish-blue.
